Niles Board Options Land For School

Niles children of the future will not lack for school facilities if present plans of the Niles school board to purchase 13 acres for an additional school site for Niles are completed.

The board this week signed an option to buy the Prouty property adjacent to the Ellsworth Orchard for $2000 an acre.

Although another four or five years will probably elapse before an additional school is needed, it was thought advisable by the board to purchase the property now, while there is still land available and before the price takes a jump.

The property, located on a bench, was thought to be ideal for several reasons. It has good drainage, can be bought at a fair price, is easily accessible to Canyon Heights on one side, and the Morrison Avenue district from the other.

Furthermore, when Canyon Heights Drive is extended over to Morrison Avenue—a project now under way—it will eliminate the necessity for children of the Canyon Heights area from crossing the railroad track.

The contract under which the land will be purchased calls for grading and extension of Orchard and Canyon Heights Drives.

An election to be held in the school district in the near future will let the voters decide whether or not to allot the $33,000 being asked by the board for the purchase and improvement of the property.

ENLISTMENTS OPEN FOR NEW SERVICES

The Army, Navy and Air Force recruiting services announced this week that draft-age men may not enlist once they had received their pre-induction physical examination notices.

Chief Martinson of the San Leandro Naval Recruiting Office warned potential volunteers to enlist immediately if they desire to serve in the navy, air force or a specific branch of the army. "Present procurement plans call for all inductees to be assigned to the army," he said.

"Both navy and air force offices have had many applications from men who have received their notices for physical examination but have been forced to decline the applications," Martinson said.

FIRE DISTRICT BUYS PROPERTY FOR NEW FIREHOUSE

Purchase of property on Second Street as the location for a new firehouse for the Niles Fire Protection District was announced Tuesday at the monthly meeting of the district commissioners.

The lot, between H and I Streets, was sold to the district by L. L. Lewis for $3000.

The present firehouse on First Street has been considered inadequate for several years. The property on which it is situated is owned by the Southern Pacific Railroad Company. The railroad declined to sell any of its First Street property for the erection of a larger building. Therefore the Second Street location was selected.

Reorganization of the fire district was completed yesterday by the Alameda County Board of Supervisors so that the district board will consist of three elected commissioners instead of five appointive members.

These offices were filled on the recommendation of Supervisor Chester E. Stanley by A. M. Alves (president), Leon Solon and John Brahmst. Edward E. Enos and William Helm had served with the present commissioners on the previous five-man board.

Election of commissioners will be held in April, 1951.

A financial report of the district shows $17,900 on hand for maintenance, operation and capital outlay.

COMMUNITY CHEST OFFICERS APPOINT DRIVE MANAGERS

Recently elected officers of the Washington Township Community Chest's 1950 drive for funds have announced the appointment of two persons who will aid them in expediting the campaign.

The appointees are: Mrs. Stella Benbow, campaign manager, and Mrs. Ann Mayock, publicity manager. Both served in the same capacities last year and have confirmed their appointments.

Upon accepting the appointment, Mrs. Ann Mayock of Irvington said: "With the World situation as it is, Washington Township needs at least as good a Chest program as it had last year."

Mrs. Mayock said that this year emphasis will be on the youth groups participating in the drive because there is a great need for their services in this area.

Pending developments of a general meeting, which will be held in the Centerville Justice Court at 8 p.m. on August 28, for the purpose of setting up the 1950 budget, Secretary Carmelita Freitas said that no policies have been formed by the recently elected officers of the Community Chest's campaign.

According to Mrs. Freitas, the August 28 meeting will be open to the general public and all others who are interested in the Community Chest.

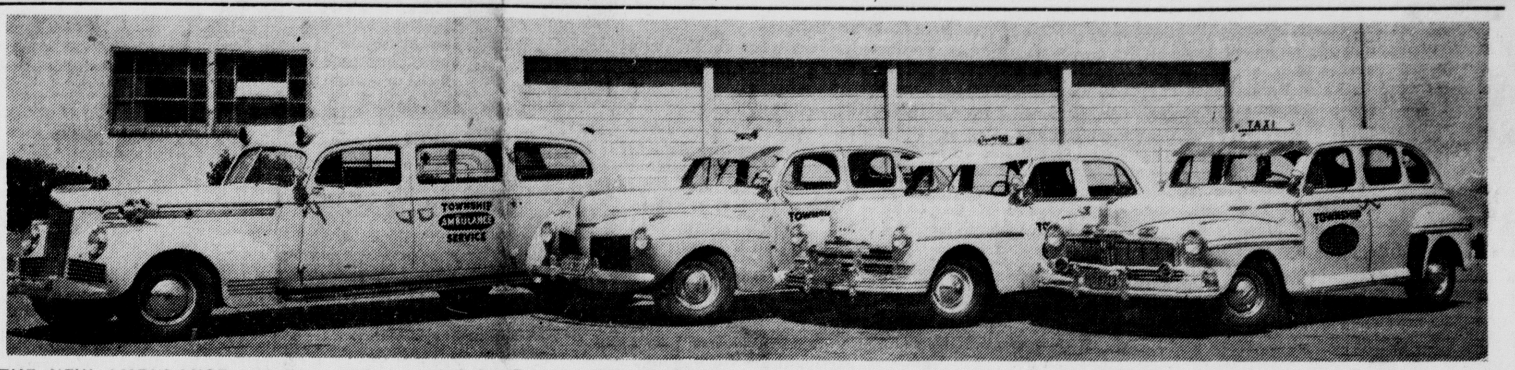
She also stressed the importance of having all participating groups submit their budgets to her before August 25. Their doing so will enable the campaign officers to determine the Chest's 1950 quota and budget.

The officers who were elected recently are: Warren E. Gravestock, president; Judge Allen Norris, vice-president; Mrs. Freitas, secretary; and Carl Christensen, treasurer.

ANNEXATION BY DISTRICT APPROVED

Annexation by the Alameda County Water District of the property near Niles including Canyon Heights, a portion of the Prouty property, and part of the Niles Canyon Road was authorized Wednesday.

In a petition regarding the annexation, property owners indicated almost unanimously that they favored the move. According to President W. D. Patterson, of the water district board, no protests were registered at a public hearing on the issue Wednesday.



THE NEW AMBULANCE and three taxis operated by Bernard Vail of Centerville, shown above, have been equipped with two-way short-wave radio equipment. The ambulance went into operation this week under contract with the County Board of Supervisors to handle traffic accident calls. It is also available for private service.

NILES SOLDIER IS WOUNDED IN KOREAN BATTLE

Pvt. LeRoy Nickell of Niles was reported wounded in action on the Korean front in a terse telegram which his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Nickell of Canyon Road, received Saturday.

PVT. LEROY NICKELL of Niles whose parents received word this week that he has been wounded in action in Korea.

The telegram, which was sent to Mrs. Nickell from Washington, D. C., by Edward F. Withell, adjutant general of the Army, said that the infantry soldier had been slightly wounded in recent action somewhere along the Korean front. It did not describe young Nickell's injuries, but his mother is trying to obtain more information through the Red Cross unit in Hayward.

Pvt. Nickell, 20, was serving with the 29th Infantry Regiment, and left the San Francisco Port of Embarkation on July 23.

He has written to his mother at least once a week since he enlisted in the service at San Leandro last October. In his last letter, which was dated July 24, Nickell told his family that he had just reached the front, and that his outfit had "dug in, and now we are just waiting."

His mother estimates that he had been at the front for less than a week when he was wounded, and is a little apprehensive since she has received no word directly from him.

Nickell attended Washington Union High School before enlisting. He was to have attended the Army Office Candidate School after successfully completing a leadership training course at Ford Ord, a few months before the Korean War began, his mother said.

2 LOCAL YOUTHS ENLIST IN NAVY

Two Township youths have enlisted recently in the United States Navy, Chief Martinson of the San Leandro recruiting office announced Wednesday.

They are Joseph A. Lopes, 19, of Centerville, and Richard W. Catte, 20, of Irvington. Both are undergoing training at the San Diego Naval Training Station.

Lopes, who had lived in Centerville with his aunt, Mrs. Marianna Silva, enlisted as a high school seaman recruit. This designation indicates that, because he is a high school graduate, he is assured of training in one of the navy's 30 trade schools.

Catte had lived with his mother, Mrs. F. I. Zimmerman of Irvington, and attended Washington Union High School.

NILES 14-YEAR-OLD GETS FIRST DEER

More than a few of Washington Township's veteran hunters were just a tiny bit chagrined when they learned that young Georgie Mendoza Jr., 14-year-old Niles boy, had bagged the first buck in this area.

After the dust raised by eager first-day hunters had settled, it became evident that Georgie had won the race for bagging the first deer. He shot it in the Mission hills Monday morning.

Georgie got a buck last year, too, and that was his first season he hunted. This time, his buck is a 100-pounder with forked horns.

A full agenda awaits members of the Newark Chamber of Commerce at the regular monthly meeting to be held at the Youth Center on Tuesday evening, August 15, according to J. S. Oliveira, financial secretary.

The water committee will report the need of additional fire hydrants on Thornton Avenue, and the streets and lights committee will point out the need for additional lights in the Lindsay Tract and the problem of loose gravel on newly-resurfaced Thornton Avenue.

Entertainment arranged by Paul Gygax Jr. includes the showing of two motion pictures: "Enterprise," which depicts the growth of small towns, and "The Changing World," featuring Lowell Thomas.

Edward Bimemiller is president of the Chamber.

DR. GRIMMER IN HOSPITAL

Dr. E. M. Grimmer of Irvington is undergoing treatment in the San Jose Hospital following an attack while deer hunting on his ranch in the Calaveras Hills.

LOCAL SPORTSMEN BUY 25 ACRES FOR SHOOTING RANGE

Purchase of a 25-acre site at the intersection of the Mission San Jose-Warm Springs Highway and Durham Road was made this week by the Washington Township Sportsmen's Club. The acquisition marks the beginning of an extensive program which will include establishing a shooting field and clubhouse, and eventually other facilities, for the enjoyment of local sportsmen.

Club officers state that the grounds will allow ample room for large regional and even state shooting contests. Ranges for trapshooting, large-bore and small-bore rifle shooting will be set up in the near future.

The property was purchased at a price of $10,000 from Lillie E. Weilheimer. Each of the club's 100 members was assessed $100 to raise this sum.

The Washington Township Sportsmen's Club is a closed corporation. Officers are: president, Ray Bettencourt; vice-president, Peter Nunes; secretary, Max Stevenson; treasurer, George Silva.

The committee which handled purchase of the property was made up of Ray Bettencourt, John Calcagno, Joe Jason, Al Caeton and Peter Nunes. The transaction was made through Allan Hirsch, Irvington real estate broker.

Walter Chrysler was program chairman for the day.

ARCHDIOCESES BUY CONVENT'S OLIVE OIL

* * * * * * * * *

SISTERS MAKE 400 GALLONS FROM 200 TREES

By JACK GALLAGHER

Although the Dominican Sisters in Mission San Jose primarily are teachers of the poor and maintain a home for orphans, they have interesting sidelines, one of which is making olive oil.

These industrious sisters in the Mission convent for many years have been making all of the oil used by priests of five archdioceses in administering various sacraments. The archdioceses are: San Francisco, Los Angeles, Portland, San Antonio and Honolulu. The sacraments are: baptism, ordination and extreme unction. The oil is also used in the Holy Thursday ritual.

From the 200 olive trees which line the convent's lanes, the sisters get most of the fruit which they process over a period of three months to make the oil.

TREES BLOOM IN MAY

The trees bloom in May, and in July they start bearing fruit. The olives begin to ripen in January, and are picked during February and March.

From the pickers' buckets the olives are placed in huge water-filled, wooden vats and are allowed to soak for two or three days. Then the fruit is removed from the vats and placed in small wooden frames under which are course burlap sacks. The fruit-laden frame, which is about two feet long, 18 inches wide and eight inches deep, is placed in an electrically driven press and covered with another piece of burlap.

PRESSURE ELICITS OIL

Then, for about two hours, 2000 pounds of pressure is applied to the olives in this frame. About two gallons of vinegary-looking juice seeps through the burlap and is funneled into a large drum. Then the pressure is relaxed and the olives removed from the frame.

Now they are in the form of a rectangular cake. About 18 of these cakes are put into the same frame and placed in the press again. But this time the pressure is applied very slowly—over a period of two or three days. From these cakes about 14 gallons of juice drips into the drum.

OIL LOOKS LIKE COFFEE

The juice, now looking like black coffee, is washed four or five times with cold water which helps remove impurities, and is put into a large brass vat where it stands for one week.

From this container the oil is filtered through a big funnel in which four layers of sterilized cotton batting have been placed about three inches apart. It is then passed through a paper filter and poured into the containers in which it is sold. The oil is now so pure that it will keep for years without spoiling.

Last year the sisters made 405 gallons of olive oil, and sold it all for $16 a gallon.

Completion Nears On New Steel Furnace

A second open-hearth furnace at the Pacific States Steel Corporation plant in Niles will be completed by late September or early October, according to Marion Newman, treasurer and comptroller of the corporation.

The new furnace, representing an investment of $1,500,000, will be of 150-ton capacity, and will double the present open-hearth output. It's completion will mark the half-way point in a program to install four open-hearth furnaces.

These furnaces, which are replacing electric furnaces, are fueled with crude oil, resulting in a considerable reduction in expense, and increases the company's competitive position.

Work on the second furnace has been under way for four months. Local firms engaged in the construction are E. E. Dias, general contractor, and the Centerville Electric and Pump Co., electrial contractors. Its completion will increase the open-hearth investment of the steel mill to $3,500,000.

The company, whose payroll exceeds $2,000,000 annually, has undergone a steady expansion since 1937, when it employed 50 men, to the present employment of more than 450.

Both its 16-inch and 12-inch mills are in full operation, according to Mr. Newman, and are producing bars, rounds, squares, flats, angles, channels and reinforcing bars.

NILES YOUTH HURT IN MOTOR ACCIDENT

Billy Jones, 19-year-old Niles youth, sustained a broken left knee and other leg injuries Monday night when the motorcycle he was driving left the Centerville-Niles Highway and struck a tree.

Jones was thrown from the vehicle when a mud guard dragged on the ground as he turned the corner at Fremont and Santos Roads .

The accident occurred when Jones was returning from work to his home at 911 First Street in Niles. He was taken to the Alameda Hospital where x-rays of his legs were taken.

The preliminary hearing in Centerville Justice Court of Herman D. Silacci on a manslaughter charge was continued last Friday for a second time. He is charged with causing the death of Marie Gates of San Jose when a load of large pipe his truck was carrying rolled onto the highway in front of the Gates car near Warm Springs.

The hearing will resume today at 3 p.m. in the Centerville Justice Court.

The prosecution, represented by Deputy District Attorneys Richard Lynch and George Oakes, is seeking to establish faulty loading as the cause of the death.

FARM BUREAU PICNIC SET FOR AUGUST 20

Linda Vista Park in Mission San Jose will once more be the scene of the annual Farm Bureau picnic to be held Sunday, August 20.

Folk and square-dancing, games, modern dancing and baseball, as well as a picnic lunch are some of the events scheduled for the day. The picnic starts at 10 a.m.

AID TO BOYS CLUB PROGRAM OFFERED BY STEELWORKERS

An athletic program for Niles boys may be underwritten by the United Steelworkers of America, Niles local, it was indicated by President Buford Barks at Tuesday's meeting of the Niles Chamber of Commerce.

Barks and Frank Stewart, union trustee, visited the Chamber to confer with business men on the subject. The union president stated that he would recommend to his organization that funds be given for athletic equipment if suitable quarters could be secured for the program.

Stewart, who with Joe Hudson of Niles, trained a group of small boys early this summer for a boxing match with a San Francisco boys' club, stated that he felt there was a real need in Niles for the project.

"There are many youngsters," he said, "who are not reached by Boy Scouts or Cub Scouts because their parents cannot afford uniforms and equipment. The children of these poorer families would benefit especially if some type of boys' club could be organized.

"Training in boxing and similar sports activities," he added, "would help them develop attitudes of sportsmanship and clean competition. We have capable men here in Niles anxious to work with them; buying of equipment and a place to train have been the obstacles."

Following Barks' offer to present the financial problem to the Steelworkers union, the Chamber voted to inquire into the availability of the Veterans Memorial Building for a boys' club program.

BACK HOME

Emerson Ferrell and family have returned from their vacation. They drove to St. Louis, Missouri, and had a wonderful time.

PUGMIRES VACATION

Tom Pugmire Jr., his wife, Farrell, and children, along with Mrs. T. W. Pugmire and Mrs. W. D. Cull have just returned from a vacation which took them into Fishaven, Idaho, where they spent three days attending a family reunion.

They returned to Salt Lake City to visit relatives. Tom then drove to Star Valley, Wyoming, where he enjoyed some very good trout fishing and a visit with some of his relatives there.

Buford Barks was elected to the Alameda County Council (C.I.O.) Ray Secombe was appointed committeeman and shop steward for the 26 inch mill.

GETS DEER FIRST

Leonard Stewart of the rolling mill bagged the first deer that we know of. Leonard's deer was a three-pointer and was bagged at Livermore.

BUYS AIRPLANE

Hoy Odem of the 26-inch mill has finally got hold of a plane similar to the one the Wright brothers invented. Will it hold together?

BACK FROM CLEAR LAKE

Frank Richmond of the rolling mill and his family vacationed for a week at Clear Lake. Frank usually spends his vacation up there every year.

BARKS VACATIONING

Curly Barks, roller on the 16 and 12-inch mill, is on a week's vacation. Roy Ramsey is pinch hitting until he gets back.

THE EASY WAY

Alwin Searles got a deer at the Overacker ranch without firing a shot. The deer, it seems, hit a fence and was dazed, got up and ran into a tree, killing itself!

BECOMES BRIDE

Donna Marcin of the personnel department left the company to get married.

FLIES TO PORTLAND

Harry Allen of the 26-inch mill department made an unexpected departure for Portland, Oregon, last Thursday night to take care of some personal business. Buford Barks saw him off on United Air Lines Mainliner.

The business required a little more attention, so Mr. Allen joined him the following day. After everything was squared away, Mr. and Mrs. Allen spent some time visiting friends, since they were at one time residents of that city.

ON JOB AGAIN

Betty Gomes has returned from her vacation. She had a good rest, didn't go anywhere.

SOFTBALL TEAM JOINS NEW LEAGUE

Passco soft ball team withdrew from the local softball league and is now entered in the Class A League, Hayward. The team is now sponsored by Delano's, owned by C. Cerrito. Added to Delano's roster are Leland Telles, Leonard Kelly and Pat Luna.

DECOTO DISCUSSION GROUP MAKES PLANS FOR ANNUAL PICNIC AT MISS OLIVE HYDE'S

By ETHEL AVILLA

The Decoto Discussion Group met last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Katherine Goulart. Luncheon was served in the patio by the hostess. Two new members, Mrs. P. J. Puffinbarger of Hayward and Mrs. Manuel Fontes of the Mission, were present.

Mrs. Bernie Joseph led a discussion of the very interesting autobiography, "No Time for Tears" by Lora Wood Hughes. It could also be termed a travelogue as she relates her heroic struggle with life from the Kansas homestead to California to Honolulu, Montana, Alberta and Seattle. In her portrayal of her life as a nurse she has written some clever biographical sketches of patients and friends and included many of the humorous incidents which helped to make up her full life. Mrs. Hughes claims she was always too busy for tears and that she had never been bored. One can well believe it.

The Group will enjoy their annual picnic at the summer home of Miss Olive Hyde in the Mission on Wednesday, September 13. Mrs. Florence Wallace is the leader for that meeting and has chosen a foreign novel, "Madame Dorothea" by Sigred Undset.

Recreation in California has become a billion-dollar industry.

NEW CIRCULAR FOR TOMATO GROWERS

"Tomato Production in California" is the title of the latest circular published by the University of California College of Agriculture.

The circular also describes tomato diseases — their symptoms, prevention and control; and how to recognize and control insects attacking tomatoes.

"Tomato Production in California' may be obtained from the county farm advisor, Lee Benson, P. O. Box 149, or basement of the post office building, Hayward.

SALMON ANGLERS HAVE LUCK

Salmon anglers working the waters of Trinidad and Humboldt Bays in Humboldt County last week were enjoying some first-rate sport. They were taking many fish and some of these were running large.

Trout fishing in the Tehama County area has been very good recently. Most anglers have been bringing out fine catches and some have been bringing out limits.

Advertising Manager
Township Register
Niles, California

Dear Sir:

This letter is to express my appreciation for the splendid cooperation and assistance your newspaper afforded me last week in the preparation of an advertisement which appeared in the July 28 issue of the Township Register.

The advertisement for my 2 FOR 1 CLEARANCE SALE appeared exclusively in your newspaper and brought results far beyond my greatest expectation in the way of response from residents of Washington Township.

I am thoroughly convinced that advertising through the columns of your newspaper affords me the most for my advertising dollar.

I found, too, that preparing an advertisement in your paper was made so much easier through the capable assistance of your advertising staff, and the selection of illustrations which were made available at no extra cost.

May I congratulate you again on the handling of our sale and the excellent results which were accrued.

Yours truly,
MILDRED AMARAL

By ELAINE HOWE

Tales of distant lands have always lured the frustrated traveler. Adventure, strange customs, majestic scenery, romance seem bound up in yonder greener pastures. Even though communication today has brought all countries close at hand—too close for comfort—the romance of distance still holds attractions for the reader, bound perhaps by the same view from a window day in and out.

Christine Weston, born and raised in India, has absorbed her foster country's atmosphere so thoroughly she can write of the India of 1947 torn by partition as if from inside an Indian's heart and mind. In "The World is a Bridge" Miss Weston takes her group of Hindus and Moslems quite convincingly through their travail, not hesitating to show the outsiders—Americans and British—in the light in which they sometimes showed themselves. A thoughtful novel, designed to help us understand India's problems.

Yugoslavia, half iron-curtain, half rebel nation, can provide a setting fraught with mystery and foreboding. Victor Canning has used that in "A Forest of Eyes." The scene is laid in a small Yugoslav village. An Englishman, conscious of the hostile or frightened eyes which surround him, is involved quite unwittingly in the activities of a fellow Englishman who was an agent for British Intelligence. When his friend is killed, he has no alternative but to carry on—especially since there is a beautiful aristocratic singer enmeshed in the plot.

If anyone has any ideas—and who hasn't?—that this war is being mismanaged, read Henry Castor's "The Year of the Spaniard" and see what our government and army did in the war of 1898 with Spain. Remember the Maine? A young Philadelphia newspaperman is sent to Tampa to cover our invasion and thence aboard a transport into combat. It's half-humorous, half-indignant, yet it carries the ring of truth. Warren's letters to his girl and his dispatches to his paper provide the stuff of life of that hysteria of fifty years ago.

ENGINEERS ATTACK ENEMY PRODUCTION

The local battle of the marshes continued at a high pitch this week as reliable spokesmen in the county reported successes on all fronts.

Although authorities describe the situation as an extremely fluid one, and told of considerable annoyance from airborne attacks, they added that enemy production has been sabotaged and greatly reduced by our county engineers.

Harold F. Gray, Alameda county mosquito abatement engineer, in his report to the Board of Supervisors last week, said that mosquito production in this county has been reduced as a result of drainage and extensive applications of DDT. He also announced the promotion of Theodore Aarons from etomologist to assistant manager.

STOCKHOLDERS ARE KRAFTILE GUESTS

Local stockholders of the Kraftile Company were guests of the company at a luncheon Tuesday noon, presided over by President C. W. Kraft. R. A. Blacow, manager of the Central Bank at Niles, guest of honor, was presented by Mr. Kraft with an expression of appreciation for many acts of service and helpfulness during the 25 years history of Kraftile.

This was another in a series of special events commemorating Kraftile's silver anniversary and afforded stockholders who were able to attend an opportunity to hear first-hand a discussion of company objectives and plans for the future. A tour of the plant followed.

The importance of the stockholder in furnishing the money necessary to provide tools, equipment and facilities were stressed by Mr. Kraft. "Unless a business merits the continued support of its stockholders it cannot expand and meet its opportunities," he said.

'PEOPLE ARE FUNNY' DEPARTMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Patchett, who operate the Peerless bus depot and fountain in Niles, came up with a bit of startling information about local people's taste in ice-cream.

"People here just won't have anything to do with cherry or peach ice cream," said Mrs. Patchett. "Their preference leans towards any nut flavor."

The explanation for this, says Mrs. Patchett, lies in the fact that so many people here work in the cannery. After working with cherries and peaches all day, should they go home and EAT the darned things?

People in Walnut Creek, however—according to the ice cream delivery man—will not eat any ice cream flavored with nuts.

It all goes to prove something or other—perhaps that people do not appreciate their own home-grown products.

But then, I can sympathize with such a feeling. Recently, in a restaurant, I was served apricot jam with my toast—

THE PLACE TO GO

Lew Musick, Decoto school superintendent, was visiting in San Quentin last Wednesday. From his description, it sounds more like Shangri-la than prison.

"Why," he said enthusiastically, "it's the most peaceful place I've ever seen! And to be quite frank with you, the people inside there look more normal than the ones on the outside."

He just can't wait until he gets back in there again. Next time, he says, he's going to visit the gas chamber.

Now I'm wondering if California isn't missing a bet by not exploiting San Quentin as one of its popular vacation resorts:

Peaceful, quiet surroundings. Amercan plan only. Rates, by the month or year. Companionable guests. Plenty to do (there's always the jute mill). No need to make reservations. Ideal spot for "getting away from it all." No need to worry, as your problems become our problems. Once here, you'll find it hard to leave.

POOR DEERS

Every year at deer hunting time I become very morbid, thinking about the poor deers that are losing their lives. It preys on my mind so much that I can't sleep. I try counting sheep, but the sheep always end up with forked horns and sad, limpid eyes like Bambi's.

A member of my family who will have to remain anonymous as he has refused to let me refer to him in this column, said the other day, 'Gosh, Mom, would you like this country to be completely overrun with deer? They've got to be killed to protect the farms and the rangelands."

Then he showed me a magazine article in a sport's magazine that referred to people like me as "well-meaning but badly misinformed sentimentalists."

I was intrigued with this, so I went on to finish the article.

Now I am just reeking with information about deer. Do you know that we have twelve times as many white-tails (that's a form of deer) as we did forty years ago?

Do you know that many deer starve because there isn't enough food for so many?

Do you know that deer get hungry and eat up the young forests?

Do you know that last year in Wisconsin 1400 fawns died from starvation?

Do you know that in California, where the kill was 48,000 bucks in 1948, there is still left a herd of 650,000?

Imagine! All those deer! Why, the first thing you know there'll be more deer than people!

Will someone please hand me a gun? And a red hat?

Mrs. Broun and Son Leave for the East

Mrs. LeRoy Broun and her son, LeRoy Jr., of Centerville, left Wednesday on the Santa Fe for Atlanta, Georgia, to be gone for about four weeks. The two will have plenty to do back there, as all of Mrs. Broun's relatives live there, and also all of those of her husband. They will pick up a new car back there and drive home.

Week-End Guests

Guests at the C. W. Lindsay home last week-end were Mrs. Lewis Christensen of San Jose; Mrs. Lindsay's niece, Mrs. Wayne Bell and her twins of Long Beach; and Mrs. Lindsay's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Hobson of San Francisco.

Niles Couple Returns From Eastern Jaunt

Mr .and Mrs. A. J. Cadero, after having traveled across country to New York, couldn't settle down, so —after one day at their home on Orchard Drive, washing clothes and ironing—they packed up and went off to Oregon for a week.

Now they are home to stay, at least for a while. They arrived home in a beautiful new car that they bought in Flint, Michigan. Altogether they were gone five weeks, motoring up into Canada, then down to New York, and all through the eastern part of the country. On their return trip they took in the beautiful sights of the Grand Canyon.

Mr. Cadero went back to work Monday, and Mrs. Cadero—well, she says that now she is going to catch up on her sleep. They both said that they had a wonderful time.

Niece to Live With Mrs. Jones

Mrs. Carl Brown, who calls Texas her home state, has come to Niles to live with her aunt, Mrs. F. V. Jones. Mrs. Brown, a trained nurse, will be able to put her nursing experience to good use as Mrs. Jones is recuperating from a serious illness that has kept her confined to her home for several weeks. She is able to be out and around a little now, however, which is good news to all of her friends who have missed her.

Off to Texas

Mr. and Mrs. George Reeves, who live in Hayward although they are identified here in the township through Mr. Reeves' position on the faculty at the local high school, are leaving this week-end for Texas, to be gone for two weeks.

To Kansas

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Rehrig of Centerville and their two boys are leaving today (Friday) for Kansas, to visit Mr. Rehrig's mother and other relatives. They plan to return here by the 30th.

Mission Girl Married At the Country Club

One of the simplest and yet loveliest of wedding ceremonies witnessed in many a year was performed at the Country Club in Centerville on Sunday afternoon, August 6, on the platform of the club, which was decorated with a white church along whose roof stood shining candles and two crosses. Long white tapers extended at intervals along the floor to the edge of the platform with several flower arrangements.

In this setting at two o'clock Miss Mary Edith Santos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Antone Santos Jr. of the Mission, became the bride of Mr. Jack Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Scott of Santos Road, with the Reverend Golliher of the Nazarene Church marrying them, giving them his blessing, and introducing them to the audience as Mr. and Mrs. Jack Scott.

Mary Edith, who came down the aisle on the arm of her father, was dressed in an ankle length satin grown with wide ruffle at the hem. White net overlay both top and skirt while a short veil was held in place with a tiara. She carried a bride's bouquet of white carnations and orchids with a background of white satin ribbon.

Her bridesmaid, Miss Joanne Casey, wore an ankle length pale green brocaded organdy and carried pink carnations with pink satin ribbon background. Mary Edith's niece, Miss Joanne Reis, was flower girl in a pink satin gown and carried a pink smaller bouquet.

Jack was attended by Herbert Cartwright, a school chum.

Mrs. Santos was attired in a flowered crepe dress and Mrs. Scott wore a light grey suit. Each had an orchid corsage. A really wonderful five-tiered fruit cake was baked for the occasion by Mrs. Nora Pereira and Mrs. Margie Reis, while Mrs. Margaret Phillips did a wonderful job decorating it. Most people thought it had been done by a professional.

The newlyweds left for a few days' honeymoon, destination unknown to your correspondent.

By Lois Bottenberg.

Mr. and Mrs. Duffy Lewis of Centerville are in Southern California this week vacationing at one of the beaches down there.

ROSETTA CLARK IS SHOWER HONOREE PRIOR TO AUGUST 26 ALTAR DATE

Rosetta Clark of Canyon Heights, who will become the bride of Herbert Cartwright on August 26, was the guest of honor at two separate showers last week-end. One was given for her by her grandmother, Mrs. A. F. Clark of 340 Secon Street, Niles, and the other was given by Mrs. Rosetta Beckway of Canyon Heights.

The one given Friday night by her grandmother was attended by Miss Margaret Ashton, Mrs. Margaret Arias, Mrs. Jerry Biles, Mrs. Eve Cartwright (mother of the groom-to-be), Mrs. Maud Hamilton, Miss Gladys Rose, Mrs. Manola Wentworth, Mrs. Nadean Clark, Mrs. Rosetta Beckway and Miss Almajean Clark.

Those unable to attend but who sent gifts were Mrs. Galey and Mrs. Charles Rushing.

On Sunday evening at the Beckway home, lavish and artistic decorations done by the hostess brought admiring "ohs" and "ahs" from the guests. The dining alcove was devoted to a bridal corner. On the back wall hung two large white paper wedding bells, linked with blue cut-out paper hearts. The middle of the panel was spotlighted with a huge silver heart trimmed with a large white ruffle with the names of "Herb and Rosie" cut out in the same shade of blue. Below this the complete bridal party was represented by story-book dolls. A Chinese umbrella covered with 14 yards of delicate lace formed the canopy for the bride and groom.

Those present included Mmes. Emily Lampley, Bonnie Kerns, Maxine Marshall, Verba Westray, Evelyn Briggs, Linda Ryder, Bernice White, Jeanette Landrum, Jackie Gellerman, Nadean Clark, Dick Nease, Chris Nease, Miss Almajean Clark, and Mrs. Cartwright.

Those not attending but sending gifts were Mmes. Lillian Short, Helen Pakota, Dorothy McKeirnan and Mrs. Mattox.

Unless they change their present plans, the young couple will be married in Reno, with only members of the families and close friends present.

IRVINGTON LOSES TO PETALUMA NINE

Despite excellent performances by two of the Irvington Merchants' regulars and draftee George Pagan of Decoto, the local lads were snowed under, 13 to 7, in a game with the Petaluma Leghorns early this week.

Merchant Tony Dutra took over at the mound in the third inning after the northerners had rolled up a 9 to 3 lead. He stemmed the attack by pitching a steady game, permitting but one earned run, and striking out five of the last seven Leghorns who faced him.

Veteran third baseman Joe Dutra and Pagan also turned in sparkling performances but the rest of the Merchants failed to support them. An abundance of errors brought the snow and soon Irvington was buried.

Pagan, who is a Washington Union High School varsity player, made the trip when Regular Stan Roderick said he would not be able to go along. The high school boy appeared to be right at home behind the catcher's mask.

FORGE LEADS IN LEAGUE PLAYOFFS

With the Watshington Township Softball Association B League Shaunessey playoff midway through its first phase, and the A League playoff about to be launched, much speculation about which teams will cop the two series is being heard.

In the B league Y.M.I., which took the pennant, is playing the fourth-place team, Kraftile. Whichever team wins two for three will play the winner of the other half of the playoff, and the team which wins three games out of five will be the B League champs.

In competition so far, Y.M.I. and Wedgewood split in two games, and American Forge downed Kraftile.

Tonight American Forge meets Kraftile for their second game, and Monday Y.M.I. plays Wedgewood to decide which team gets the bid for the second phase of the playoff.

The A League playoff schedule was drawn up last night after the Register went to press. However, Kleines will probably face Central Chevrolets in the opener of the A League playoff.

All playoff games will be played on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, and all will be double headers.

Scores of recent games are:

Aug. 3—Central Chev. 2, Kleines 3
Kraftile 4, Wedgewood 6
Aug. 4—Calif. Pottery 13, Forge 7
Central Chev. 9, Forge 8
Aug. 7—Kleines 4, Westvaco 6

Aug. 8—Amer. Forge 10, Kraftile 5

TOMATO GROWERS SEEK PRICE HIKE

Price adjustments on 1950 contracts with processors will be sought by Alameda and Contra Costa County Tomato Growers through individual action.

Growers are expected to ask for a $5 increase over the $20 per ton harvesting price agreed upon when contracts were signed early this year.

These decisions were reached during a meeting of the Alameda-Contra Costa County Tomato Growers Association in Pleasanton after the state-wide tomato situation was outlined.

Association Chairman Joe Rose pointed out that rising production costs due to crop injuries by disease and insects were primarily responsible for the move.

Since contracts were signed early this year with processors, damage to tomato crops has been nation-wide, he said.

Growers who held out when the contracts were signed are now receiving from $27 to $30 per ton for their tomatoes, he said.

The state-wide tomato problem was discussed during the session by Field Secretary Cameron Girton of the California Tomato Growers Association.

D.D.T. CAN KEEP OUT TERMITES

DDT mixed with oil and spread through the soil offers a means of controlling termites around wooden structures. So reports Farm Advisor Lee Benson on the basis of research carried on by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Experiments show that 5 per cent DDT in No. 2 fuel oil serves well for control. Entomologists suggest digging a trench along the foundation about 30 inches deep and about the width of a spade. Saturate the earth at the bottom with the DDT preparation and also saturate layers of the soil as you fill up the trench. Apply the treatment at the rate of one quart per cubic foot of soil.

A single treatment of DDT will prevent termites from attacking woodwork for at least five years. The entomologists don't know yet how much longer than five years it may remain effective.

SOCIAL SECURITY ACT IS EXPLAINED

Barring some hidden block in the production line, Congress and the President should, almost any day now, wheel out a brand new Social Security model for the nation's use.

Both houses of Congress already have passed slightly different versions of a broadened Social Security Act and as soon as the differences are ironed out in conference, the completed measure will be forwarded to the president for signature.

Here are the probable high lights, according to Washington observers, of the new act:

COVERAGE—It will cover approximately 4,500,000 self-employed persons, roughly 1,500,000 state and local government employees who do not have pension systems, some 1,000,000 full-time domestics, about 900,000 farm laborers, 600,000 employees of non-profit institutions, 500,000 outside salesmen, 150,000 American employees of American corporations abroad, and a few other small groups.

At present there are nearly 2,800,000 people receiving Social Security all told. The average benefit today is $25 per month.

BENEFITS—Under the Senate version of the new measure, the average monthly payment will be $48.50. The "Insurance Economic Surveys" gives the following example of how Social Security would work for a man 65 retiring next December.

"This man has averaged $200 per month on his job since Social Security began 14 years ago. They figure 40 per cent of the first $50 of his average monthly pay. This amounts to $20. Then they take 10 per cent of the remaining $150, which is $15 . . . a 'basic benefit' of $35 per month. But he also is entitled to a 1 per cent 'increment per year during the period of coverage'. That means his benefit is increased by $4.90 . . . 14 per cent of $35 . . . a total of $39.90. But this is computed under the old system. The worker still hasn't received the increase voted by Congress. To determine this, the Social Security clerk runs the figure $39.90 through a 'conversion table' and finds the worker is entitled under the new law to $67.60."

$80 MAXIMUM—If, as expected, the new Social Security Bill is voted by Congress and approved by the president, it will go into effect after January 1. At that time the government will increase the "basic benefit." The measure also provides that the "taxable base" has been increased to $3600 to pay for the increased benefits. At present the "base" is $3000. The difference, according to fiscal experts, is that a person who earns $300 per month or more and goes the whole route of the Social Security system will have his benefits increased $7.50. He would receive a maximum benefit of $80 instead of $72.50.
